

We value what's important. Your valuables.

Do I need renter's insurance?

The answer is most likely yes. Many people underestimate the hazards of renting a home or apartment. For starters, consider how much it would cost to replace all your personal belongings in case of damage or theft. If the total is more than you can currently afford to pay, then renter's insurance is for you.

Renter's insurance also protects your guests against injury, and gives you liability protection should you become responsible for injury or property damage, either of which could cost you thousands of dollars. Our renter's insurance provides affordable coverage for peace of mind protection.

Every Grange Insurance Association™ renter's policy provides:

- Replacement cost available on eligible personal property.
- Up to $500 for spoilage of refrigerated property.
- Liability protection should you become responsible for bodily injury or for property damage.
- Medical coverage if a guest is injured on your property.
- Legal defense for any covered liability claims made against you.
- Additional living expenses should your rental home become uninhabitable due to a covered loss.
- A large selection of additional options may also be available to you.
